1. a) Annotate any two of the following passages. 8
- i) Fairest of Mortals, thou distinguished care Of thousand bright inhabitants of Air!
If e'er one vision touched thy infant Thought,
Of all the Nurse and all the Priest have taught,
Of airy Elves by Moonlight shadow seen,
The Silver Token and the circled Green,
- ii) Then flashed the living Lightnings from her Eyes,
And Screams of horror rend th' affrighted Skies,
Not louder Shrieks to pitying Heaven are cast,
When Husbands, or when Lapdogs breathe last,
Or when rich china Vessels fallen from high,
In glittering dust and painted fragments lie!
- iii) Very True Indeed, my dears, but you are blessed with wonderful memories, and your poor cousin has probably none at all.
There is a vast deal of difference in Memories, as well as in everything else, and therefore you must make allowance for your cousin, and pity her deficiency.
- iv) It is a pity that the custom Should have been discontinued It was a valuable part of former times. There is something in the Chapel and the chaplain so much in Character with a great house, with one's ideas of what such a household should be! A whole family assembling regularly for the purpose of prayer is fine.
