2. Annotate any four of the following passages: 16
 - a) Love, we are in God's hand.
How strange now, looks the life He makes us lead;
So free we seem, so fettered fast we are!
I feel he laid the fetter: let it lie!
 - b) If a man spends lavishly on his library, you call him mad - a bibliomaniac. But you never call one a horse-maniac, though men ruin themselves every day by horses, and you do not hear of people ruining themselves by their books."
 - c) Should life all labour be?
Let us alone. Time driveth onward fast,
And in a little while our lips are dumb.
Let us alone. What is it that will last?
 - d) Lovely all times she lies, lovely to night –
only, me thinks, some loss of habits power
Befalls me wandering through this upland dim.
Once passed I blindfold here, at any hour;
Now seldom come I, since & came with him.
 - e) A common greyness silvers everything,—
All in a twilight, you and I alike
—You, at the point of your first pride in me
(That's gone you know),—but I, at every point;
My youth, my hope, my art, being all toned down
To yonder sober pleasant Fiesole.
 - f) What pleasure can we have To war with evil? Is there any peace
In ever climbing up the climbing wave?
All things have rest, and ripen toward the grave
In silence – ripen, fall, and cease:
