Emotion is usually considered to be a feeling about or reaction to certain important events and thoughts. An emotion can be either pleasant or unpleasant. An individual also may have a mixture of both pleasant and unpleasant emotions. People enjoy feeling such pleasant emotions as love, happiness and contentment, They often try to avoid feeling unpleasant emotions, such as loneliness, worry and get grief. However, people are sometimes not fully aware of their own emotions. Although most people believe they know an emotion is, psychologist have not agreed one definition that applies to both human being and other animals.

Individual communicate most of their emotions by means of words, a variety of other sounds, facial expressions and gestures. For example, anger cause many people to frown, make a first and yell. People learn ways of showing some of their emotions from member of their society, though heredity may determine some emotional behaviour. Research has shown that different isolated people show emotions by means of similar facial expressions. Even child who are born blind have facial expressions like those of sighted children.

- C) Read the following extract and answer the questions given below. 5

Socrates taught that "the man who is master of himself is truly free". By being master of oneself he meant first knowing oneself, one's faults and weaknesses and one's good points, without making any pretense and without being vain, and then being able to control oneself. This knowledge of himself was what helped a man to be courageous, and the courageous man has very important sort of freedom from fear. Socrates himself, because he was not afraid of the consequences, always felt free to teach what he taught was right, however, unpopular this might make him with the powerful people in Atthens.

No wonder all his pupils loved Socrates. But he made some dangerous enemies by his strange ways of teaching and asking questions. Some of the rulers in Athens did not like people to be courage to ask questions for fear they would begin asking questions about what their rulers were doing. So they accrued Socrates of teaching young men wicked things and leading them to throw off their religion. This was false, for in facet Socrates was a very religious man. At last his enemies had him arrested, and he was condemned to death.

Questions :-

- 1) Whom does Socrates call truly free man?
- 2) Why did Socrates have enemies?
- 3) Why did some rulers have Socrates?
- 4) What was Socrates occurred of?
- 5) How can it be said that the accusation was false?
